

Can I copy my EFT Server log files to another location using FTP commands or Event Rules?

THE INFORMATION IN THIS ARTICLE APPLIES TO:

- EFT Server (All Versions)

QUESTION

Can I copy my EFT Server log files to another location using FTP commands or Event Rules?

ANSWER

Yes:

- Create a custom Command in EFT that uses Window's xcopy command, then create a Timer Event Rule

- or -

- Copy the file manually from your FTP Client, such as CuteFTP

Because different EFT versions have different paths and features, please refer to the help for your version of EFT and search for "xcopy."

Security Note: Always use caution when giving program access to your system32 directory (especially an FTP server).
