

Backup will backup all files that reside in the server's configuration path

THE INFORMATION IN THIS ARTICLE APPLIES TO:

- EFT v7.2.1 and later

DISCUSSION

The site backup will backup all files that reside in the server's configuration path; therefore, if you have a 300MB file in the server configuration path, the backup process will also include the large file.

Note: The Backup option and event rule is only available for eft Enterprise until version 8.0.7. After version 8.0.7, the backup option is available for all versions and types of EFT.

For more information on the backup option and rule, please see your version of eft's "Backup and Restore" in the online help site.
